

Math 491 - Mathematical Writing
Writing Assignment #4
Due: By 4:00pm on Friday, February 15th

Instructions:

You will be given a rough draft of an article on a mathematical topic. You are expected to play the role of a reviewer/editor and recommend revisions to the article. We will spend some class time going through a portion of the article together. You will complete the process and then write up and turn in all of your suggested revisions.

Your grade on this assignment will be based mainly on the thoroughness and correctness of the revisions you suggest. You will not be graded explicitly on your grammar or mechanics, but you should make sure to write reasonably well. You should make sure that your final product serves the primary purpose of helping the author(s) to improve their article based on your comments and feedback.

This assignment is due by 4:00pm on Friday, February 15th.

Math 491 - Mathematical Writing
Writing Assignment #4
Due: By 4:00pm on Friday, February 15th

Instructions:

You will be given a rough draft of an article on a mathematical topic. You are expected to play the role of a reviewer/editor and recommend revisions to the article. We will spend some class time going through a portion of the article together. You will complete the process and then write up and turn in all of your suggested revisions.

Your grade on this assignment will be based mainly on the thoroughness and correctness of the revisions you suggest. You will not be graded explicitly on your grammar or mechanics, but you should make sure to write reasonably well. You should make sure that your final product serves the primary purpose of helping the author(s) to improve their article based on your comments and feedback.

This assignment is due by 4:00pm on Friday, February 15th.