

CHOATE NAMED MSUM'S NEW HUMAN RESOURCES DIRECTOR

Edward Choate, a labor and employment attorney at Southern Connecticut State University in New Haven for the past 12 years, has been named director of Human Resources at Minnesota State University Moorhead.

He's replacing Ben Blair, who retired earlier this year.

Choate (rhymes with coat), an Illinois native, completed his undergraduate degree in history and government along with a secondary teaching certificate from Southern Illinois University at Carbondale. After earning his J.D. from the University of Notre Dame Law School and passing the Illinois Bar exam, he opened and maintained a general law practice in his hometown in Carterville for 17 years.

Choate, 53, later earned a master's degree at Southern Connecticut State, where he has taught an undergraduate survey course in U.S. History.

As the labor and employment attorney at Southern Connecticut, his duties included daily contract administration of collective bargaining agreements, primarily those of the faculty and administrators. That involved overseeing contract processes such as promotion, tenure, renewal, evaluations, grievances, and discipline.

Choate also has extensive experience in classification and compensation issues and has served on collective bargaining teams for the Connecticut State University System.

His wife Lenetta, an art history and psychology instructor at Paier College of Art in Hamden, Conn., is finishing her term and will join him here soon.

BARBARA CROW TO READ FROM NEW CHAPBOOK 'GOING ON' NOV. 11 IN LIBRARY PORCH

Barbara Crow, a New Zealand native who now lives in Grand Forks, will read from her new chapbook of poetry, "Going On," at 8 p.m. Thursday, Nov. 11 in the Minnesota State University Moorhead library porch.

"Going On" was recently released by Dacotah Territory Press, a small, independent, non-profit publisher of contemporary poetry from the Upper Midwest supported in part through MSUM's printing facilities.

The 35-page collection of poems ($5) is Crow's second. Her first, "Coming Up For Light and Air," published by New Rivers Press in 1995, won the Minnesota Voices Project Competition that year.

Crow earned a teacher's certificate from Christchurch College of Education in New Zealand and worked as a teacher and then as a print and radio journalist, also in New Zealand. A former executive assistant at the North Dakota Museum of Art, she's now a commentator for North Dakota Public Radio.

Crow will also be joined by her daughter Sarah Morrau for an evening of poetry and song from 5:30 to 7 p.m. Wednesday, Dec. 8 at the Plains Art Museum in Fargo. A well-known area folk, jazz and pop singer, Morrau has released two CDs, "Storm Warning" and "To Hold You."

Crow took creative writing classes at MSUM and two of her daughters, Melanie and Sarah, are graduates of the university.

MSUM AND MSCTC PARTNER TO DELIVER THE BUSINESS ACADEMY

MSUM and Minnesota State Community and Technical College have partnered to deliver the Business Academy. Focused on leadership, teamwork and quality, the training program is offered as a series of monthly sessions concerning important business topics.

Session topics include: "So, You're A Supervisor" (November), "Team Building" (December), "Theory of Constraints" (January), "Customer Relationship Marketing" (February) and "High Impact Communications" (March).

Facilitators are MSCTC and MSUM staff and faculty. Planning, marketing and coordinating activities have been a joint effort between the two education partners. For more information, contact Kathleen Paulson, Customized Training Program Coordinator, 477-5051 or paulsonk@mnstate.edu

ADVISING UNDECLARED STUDENTS

Joanie Kylo and Trina Pisk-Hall from the Advising Support Center will present theoretical models and provide tools for working with the undeclared student population from 2:30 to 3:30 p.m. Wednesday, Nov. 10 in CMU 208.

LAGGING CONTRIBUTIONS TO MSUM'S 2004-2005 COMBINED CHARITIES CAMPAIGN

To date, MSUM's Combined Charities Campaign has raised $35,523.50 (64.5% of this year's $55,000 goal).

Now is the time to reconsider making a pledge to this year's campaign. Your pledge can make a difference! It's not too late to donate. Your support will ensure that our communities are prepared for tomorrow.

Remember: A pledge of just $1 per pay period will buy 12 books for a child in Clay and/or Cass counties.

To date, 144 MSUM employees have contributed to the campaign.

This illustrates the generosity of MSUM faculty and staff who are able to look beyond their own needs and comforts to ensure that the needs of others can be met. Because of your generosity, people in our communities who find themselves in need will be helped. Victims of violence will be protected, homeless families will be fed and sheltered, children will be nurtured.

If you have made your pledge on-line, notify Human Resources of your choices so that your name and contributions can be added to the list for prize drawings and also added towards MSUM's goal.

If you need assistance with your 2005 pledge, contact Deb Lewis (2158), Peg Potter (2805), or Cliff Schuette (2835).

International Education Week, Nov. 15-19
Celebrating International Education and Exchange
Recognizing the importance of international education and exchange to the democracy, economy, and culture of the US, Secretary of State Colin Powell declared Nov. 15-19 as the fifth annual International Education Week. Institutions such as MSUM, as well as communities in the US and embassies abroad, have organized events as a way to highlight the benefits and "to express appreciation for students and scholars who study and teach here; and to commend the millions of people who build and strengthen bridges of international understanding by organizing and participating in exchange programs."

The Office of International Programs, along with the Global Studies and International Affairs Committee and other groups on campus, offer the following opportunities to help celebrate and promote international education and exchange:

Monday, Nov. 15:

Public Lecture: International Education and Homeland Security, 3.30 p.m., CB111. Political Science Prof. Andrew Conteh discusses the changing nature of international education and student exchange in the aftermath of 9/11.

Tuesday, Nov. 16

Geography Quiz Bowl, 6 p.m., CMU Lounge. Show off your worldly knowledge and win fabulous prizes from several local ethnic restaurants. Individuals or teams of two; no pre-registration required, just show up.

Study Abroad Panel Discussion, 8 p.m., Grantham Hall Lounge. The Nelson Grantham Holmquist Hall Council and the Spanish Club welcome you to hear first-hand stories from MSUM students who have studied and traveled abroad, and will answer any questions you have about studying abroad.

Wednesday, Nov. 17

Study Abroad Information Session, 2 p.m., CB106. For students not able to make the previous evening's panel discussion, grad student Eric Leinen will hold an open session to provide general information on MSUM's study abroad programs, as well as other international education opportunities.

Public Lecture: Interactivity: Society in the Spectacles, 3 p.m., CB111. Visiting Lecturer Tony Richards of the Media Production department, University of Lincoln (UK), will talk about the gap between representation and social reality in the age of the spectacle. Prof. Richards will also meet with students interested in studying abroad at the Univ. of Lincoln and UL students currently studying at MSUM.

Faculty-led, short-term study tours, 3.30 p.m. CMU207. Prof. Benjamin Smith led a group of students to Cuernavaca, Mexico last summer. He and colleagues who have also led tours in the past will talk about the how-to's of arranging short-term tours and the highlights (and potential pitfalls) of traveling with students.

Thursday, Nov. 18

Passport Application Assistance and Processing, 10 a.m. – 1:30 p.m., Library Lobby. Been meaning to get a passport? Now's your chance. Representatives from Moorhead's Post Office will be on hand to help students, staff and faculty complete and process application forms. Bring your certified birth certificate, a current driver's license or student ID, and two photos (available in Instructional Media (LL108)). Application forms are available in International Programs, FF151, or online: www.travel.state.gov.

International Studies Major Open House, 3:30 p.m., CMU 203. Open to all current international studies majors, as well as UMa about the major and answer questions. Faculty teaching courses in the major are also encouraged to attend. Refreshments will be served.

Public Lecture postponed: Nijazi Kryeziu, currently an Officer for Election Campaign and Training in one of the leading political parties of Kosovo, was both a victim and survivor of Kosovo's conflict. He had been active in Kosovo's nonviolent political movement and the Kosovo Liberation Army, but later spent three years in a Serbian jail as the result of his activities. He is now active in building democracy and civil society in Kosovo and in its efforts to resolve differences between ethnic Serbs and Albanians. Unfortunately, Mr. Kryeziu was denied a visa by the US government to participate in this week's activities. We hope to be able to bring him onto campus at a later date.

Friday, Nov. 19

International Student Presentations: Armenia and Lebanon, noon, CMU 203. Shushan Vardanyan of Armenia will present a slide show about one of the oldest countries in the world. And Max Taha of Lebanon will speak with pride about his home country.

Nov. 15-19

All week: Sodexo will offer a different international menu each day of this week.

For further information about any of these events, please contact International Programs, FF151, 477-2956; email: intrnatl@mnstate.edu.

Anderson's $250,000 gift will be used to support the College's business department accreditation and to fund the Mark A. Anderson Student Scholarship for finance majors.

Anderson was this year's Business Administration Alumnus of the Year and the University's 2001 Distinguished Alumnus.

Nov. 9: Faculty Development Committee offers... INNER LANDSCAPE OF TEACHERS EXPLORED IN BOOK DISCUSSION ABOUT 'COURAGE TO TEACH'

A book discussion on teaching based on Parker Palmer's "The Courage to Teach: Exploring the Inner Landscape of a Teacher's Life" will be held from 3:30 to 5 p.m. Tuesday, Nov. 9 in CMU 101. It's sponsored by the MSUM Faculty Development Committee.

Presenters will be Steve Grineski, Foundations; Ruth Lumb, Business Administration; Mike McCord, English; and Jan Flack, Continuing Studies.

Palmer, a respected writer and teacher, offers readers a chance to reflect on their innermost thoughts and feelings about teaching. His book explores the underlying commitments and beliefs inherent in teachers who have a strong sense of self and passion for education. He encourages teachers to rekindle their love of learning and teaching to create a stronger community for learning. Five copies of his book will be given away at the workshop. A copy of the book is available at the reserve desk in the library and an electronic copy is available through Web Pals using a title search.

STATE BANK OF HAWLEY SUPPORTS CORPORATE CAMPAIGN

State Bank of Hawley – Moorhead gave $300 to support the Alumni Foundation's 2004 Corporate Campaign.

This gift will be used for student scholarships and programming needs.

DRAGON FIRE AFTER-HOURS NOV. 16

Dragon athletic boosters will host a Dragon Fire After-Hours event Tuesday, Nov. 16 from 5 to 7 p.m. at the Moorhead Day's Inn Mulligan Lounge. Food is free, drinks are extra. This is a chance to meet the coaches and support their efforts.
