

How to be the employee EVERYONE WANTS TO HIRE:

Check out the general special education certificate from MSUM if you want to be more marketable when looking for a job. The certificate only requires 15 credits and it will move your name right up near the top of job candidates. Getting a certificate in special education will make you a better candidate for advancing in your career as well.

Classes required are:

- SPED 413
- SPED 471
- SPED 494

Plus to fulfill a general special education certificate you must take two of the following five courses:

- SPED 419
- SPED 461
- EECE 220
- SPED 445
- SPED 473

MSUM offers licensure areas at undergraduate and graduate levels.

While pursuing an undergraduate license, consider the following: Developmental Disabilities, Learning Disabilities, Emotional/Behavioral Disorders or Early Childhood Special Education. We also offer a license at a graduate level in Physical Health Disabilities.

MSUM graduate level coursework

The Special Education department is now enabling students to pursue a master's degree online. This opportunity allows students to become more marketable when the time comes for a change in their careers.

For more information, contact:

Keri DeSutter, M.S.
218.477.5942
desutter@mnstate.edu

Camille Brandt, M.S.
218.477.2183
brandtca@mnstate.edu

Ann Goldade, M.S.
218.477.2033
goldade@mnstate.edu

Deanne Borgeson
218.477.2002
borgeson@mnstate.edu

