

Non-traditional Geometry Test

1. A dead parrot is a(n) POLYGON.
2. Describe the odor of a pocketbook PERCENT.
3. A twisted foot is a(n) RECTANGLE.
4. If you don't check the time schedule, you may catch the RHOMBUS.
5. The lower part of an "out-of-it" tree is a(n) SQUARE ROOT.
6. What do acorns say when they grow up? GEOMETRY
7. Where should people go for writing things like this? PRISM
8. When boiling water on a high mountain, you have a(n) HYPOTENUSE.
9. If you don't know the union of two rays with a common endpoint, TRIANGLE.
10. Kathryn's father threw down the suitcase and said, "Put them in the TRUNCATE."
11. In order to see the Rose Parade, you must PYRAMID the crowd.
12. A man on the beach is a(n) TANGENT.
13. Not being able to catch one, you should try to be TRAPEZOID.
14. Taffy which could be pulled many times has MULTIPLE.
15. You're much too confident. Don't act CLOSURE.
16. You shouldn't freeze champagne glasses, you should FRUSTRUM.
17. When it rains you should COINCIDE.
18. You saw Celeste, he saw Celeste, ISOSCELES.
19. Take your report card and have your parents COSINE.
20. There are bony ones and there are MEDIANS.
21. If this ain't fer Wild Bill, and it ain't fer the Marshall, maybe it's VERTEX.
22. We had two pet skunks, "Dis" and "Dat". "Dat" was descended, but DISTINCT.
23. Private First Class Post was somewhat tardy, and the drill sergeant said, "POSTULATE."
24. The cover to the ukulele case is a(n) EUCLID.
25. His dog obeys Ral, but will his parrot POLYHEDRAL.
26. You broke it, and you CONVEX it.
27. When Aaron Burr was lost in a blizzard he became a(n) NUMBER.
28. When the parrot fell into the river, POLYHEDRON.
29. When I said, "Thank you," he said DIMENSION it.
30. His politics won't allow workhorses on the farm. He is PROTRACTOR.
31. Murphy piled up his car and lost his homework INDIRECT.
32. We can divide the group height or by weight or BISECTS.
33. "So you don't believe that you rammed the car into the work bench? Well, COINCIDENT."
34. "He is hard to understand when he talks because ELLIPSE."
35. I bought a bolo in Argentina, but my native guide has a(n) PARABOLAS.
36. If you could get these in a hurry, you probably have SPACE between your ears.